Most recent:

In 2019 Peter Schravemade presented in 22 different countries in front of over 450K people, including keynotes at Inman Connect in New York, NAR Annual, NAR Mid-year, MIPIM in Cannes, Property Portal Watch in Madrid, Bangkok and Miami, and RE/MAX R4 R/U. His words were featured in both Forbes Magazine and the Wall Street Journal, countless NAR articles, and throughout major publications in Europe, The UK, and the Asia/Pacific region. Mr Schravemade was a featured guest at over 150 conferences in the USA alone in varying capacities and attended over 250 conferences globally, covering 490,000 miles in the air, or enough travel to circumnavigate the globe 22 times. Finally, to cap off an exhilarating 2019 Peter was named as the Elite Agent, Asia/Pacific's Property Industry's most influential.

Generic Biography.

Fun, passionate, and interactive, Peter brings over twenty years of property sales, property management, brokerage ownership/management and property leasing experience, adds a pinch of technology and mixes it all together with a background in digital marketing.

Peter's in-depth knowledge, relevance, and foresight in property and technology trends make him internationally, one of the most sought-after presenters and advisers.

In 2016 Peter joined the BoxBrownie.com phenomenon, which in just 3-4 years has rocketed to be the fastest growing property technology platform in the world. Peter brings the benefit of the best of international property technology concepts and demonstrates research-based relevance to the global marketplace.

Passionate about de-bunking the myths and misconceptions related to property, Peter is a refreshing voice in an industry overloaded by the overwhelming white noise of new trends and fleeting fads.

Based in Australia (when not on the plane), you can find Peter, world-wide at property conferences, exhibitions, in webinars, radio interviews, and as a panellist for discussion topics.
